To whom it may concern

What a team build!! Very meaningful, informative, involved, playful definitely it was just not a day out of the office.

Unlike team builds we have attended previously, the whole team didn't just learn but they are still applying methods of success conveyed via the activities day in and day out in the office.

Good choice of activities too they were relevant for our team.

We won't forget the very first warm up game with tennis balls it was the best.

Looking forward to working with you again.
